Bad Eggs Look Purple Under Black Light

If an ordinary citizen saw a purple egg, he wouldn't have any hesitation about suspecting it was bad. Experts in science now confirm that belief.

The scientists, by the way, are about the only people who ever see purple eggs. They see purple when they look at a bad egg with the "black light" of ultraviolet rays. Fresh eggs look red under the "black light."

Industrial engineers say the process may be used as the basis of a system of testing eggs without cracking shells.

Hospital May Get Paint Job at Half Price

Harbor General Hospital a Torrance is in line for a "new look," look."

Howard E. Earl, assistant county manager, has obtained from the board of supervisors authority to apply to the state for $23.685.50 representing half the cost of painting the exterior of the Harbor General Hospital buildings.

buildings.

In Earl's request if approved by the board the money will be sought from Chapter 20 funds earmarked for public projects.
